INTRODUCTION

Blog Sites are basically used for sharing your experience with others. They can be used for anything that involves communicating or publishing information on the World Wide Web. Common uses include teaching and educational and corporate use. Your blog can be a personal diary, a project collaboration tool, a guide, or any means of communicating and publishing information on the web.

About Blog Bob

This blog site is for sharing your thoughts freely and also you can read others thoughts.

It has basically two sections. The first one is that without login you can read online the posted feeds, and the other one is that you have access to post your thoughts after login to the Blog Bob.

After posting your feed, maybe you want to change somethings in your post so, you have edit option to change your post according to yourself.

Sometimes we post wrong things, so we have to delete it anyhow. There is an option for deleting the post.

Important Modules in this site

There are following important modules.

LOGIN MODULE

Login module will help in authentication of user accounts. Users should have a valid login id and password to login into the system.

REGISTRATION MODULE

This module helps users to get registration. Using this system, users can get registered by filling up the registration form online.

POST MODULE

This module is used for posting your feeds for others.

NEW FEEDS MODULE

Users can see the posted feeds via New Feeds section

Upcoming features

We will add a keywords or specific topic option in which we can categories those posts via their nature and show them according to user queries.

We will add something like you can share your live presence to your friends.
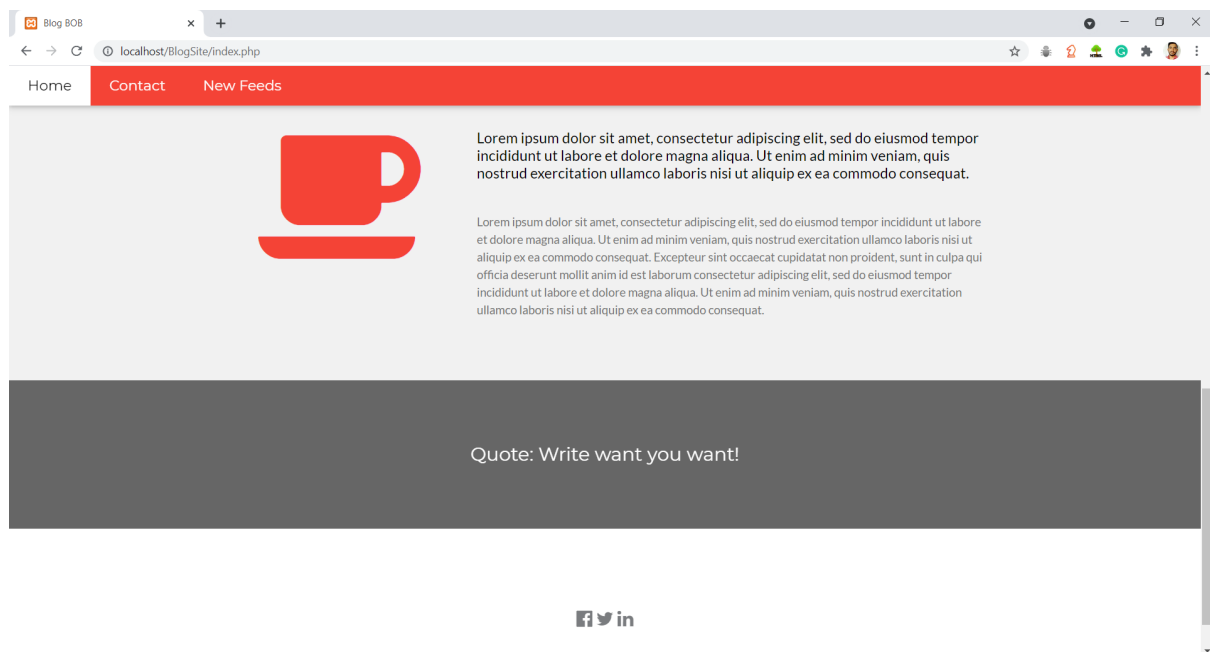

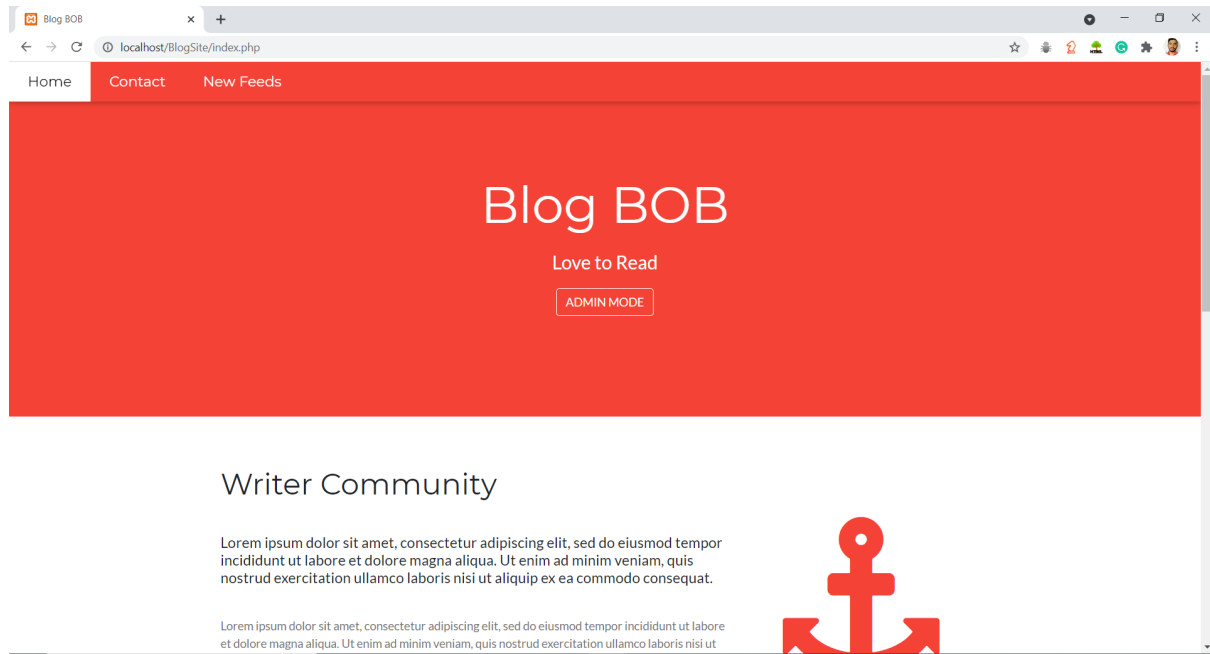

We will add features of follow and unfollow the person.
